Message from the Rosh Kollel

“A Jewish man without Torah knowledge is a man divorced from his glorious past; a Jewish city without halls of Torah study is a city estranged from its glorious future.”

Rabbi Zev Epstein, Rosh Kollel, Rio de Janeiro

The mission of the Kollel since its inception almost 13 years ago has been to have a place where Torah is learned every day, morning through night. A place where the walls absorb the fire of Torah, its warmth being felt by all those who enter it. With great siyata dishmaya we have carried out this undertaking with great success. In addition, it has helped create a new surge of learning in our community; we have more shiurim, more chavrusos and chaburos. Kol hakavod to all those who learn in the Kollel and to those who support those who learn in the Kollel.

All this learning would not be possible without the unwavering commitment of our generous supporters. I express my gratitude to our dear friends Ted and Phyllis Kosloff, our journal chairpersons once again, for the magnificent and dedicated job they have done. The beautiful journal is testament to their great efforts. Thank you!

Thank you to our esteemed honorees, Rabbi and Mrs. Aaron and Esther Gold and Dr. and Mrs. Bobby and Galitte Den for accepting our awards and enabling us to have a successful campaign.

Thank you to my dear yedid Reb Yoel Dovid Zeffren for all his tremendous efforts with the dinner campaign and his assistance throughout the year. His hard work, together with our dinner chairpersons, Dr. Ari and Inbal Elman and this year's dinner committees, has been blessed with the success we hoped for.

Thank you to our wonderful secretary Miss Leeba Baum who goes beyond the call of duty in her dedication to the Kollel.

Thank you to Richie Fine for all his involvement in helping everything run smoothly and seamlessly.

Finally, thank you all for coming tonight and for your participation in every way. Your presence here this evening expresses your commitment to true Torah learning, one which has a long-standing mesorah. Your support tonight will ensure our city's glorious future.

Message from the President of the Board

Dear Friends,

I would first like to express my gratitude to the supporters of tonight's dinner and throughout the year. Without your participation we would not be able to flourish in the way we have been blessed to. Equally, you should all feel blessed to share in the success of the Kollel. Our sages tell us that the world is dependent on Torah study. Enabling high caliber scholars to advance in their own learning, plus assisting the hundreds of community members that take advantage of this powerful resource, is your merit forever.

Special thanks are due to our honorees, Rabbi and Mrs. Aaron Gold, Guests of Honor, and Dr. and Mrs.

Bobby Den, Young Leadership Awardees, for their willingness to be honored and thereby assist in the success of tonight's event. May Hashem bless them for all their efforts.

Finally, I would like to make mention of a wonderful phenomenon that is taking place in our community through our Kollel. Many of the yungeleit and their families have settled in the community and have become an important part of its infrastructure. This will serve to help build our future as well.

Ted Kosloff, President

Message from the Journal Chairpersons

Dear Friends,

We are truly honored each year in our role as journal chairpersons. Soliciting ads is never easy, especially in difficult economic times, but the gracious and generous response that we've received continues to give wind to our sails. Whether your donation was large or small, know that it was appreciated and it is valued. Here at the Kollel it's the Torah that's paramount and the people and relationships that are the heart of the matter.

It has been our privilege to work with the most supportive rebbeim who constantly give us chizuk. We thank you all for your support in helping keep the light of Torah at the Kollel burning ever so bright.

First Seder Beis Medrash a Great Success

It is 11:00 on a Monday. In one corner of the beis medrash a group of chavrusos are deeply involved in their sugya. Nearby, another group listens intently to a shiur on maseches Megillah. The place? "First Seder" Beis Medrash – a learning program designed for adult men, located in the beis medrash of the Philadelphia Community Kollel.

First Seder was the brainchild of Rabbi Uri Yehuda Greenspan, a former member of the Philadelphia Community Kollel. Rabbi Greenspan, who is devoted to spreading the positive message of Torah and mitzvos to those who are not in a traditional full-time yeshiva or kollel environment, noticed that many men wanted to dedicate time for learning, but lacked the proper structure within which to do so. Determined to provide them with the opportunity for quality Torah learning, he established this beis medrash, where men of all ages who are available in the morning can devote their time to learning in a true Torah environment.

The program consists of two tracks. In the first track, participants can attend various shiurim on a variety of topics, including Mishnayos, Dirshu Mishnah Berurah, Gemara, taamei hamitzos, Ramban, or Midrash Rabbah. In the second track, participants learn a Gemara sugya with Rishonim and Acharonim, together with a chavrusa, in a guided environment.

Although the First Seder only opened this past September, it has met with great enthusiasm. A total of about 20 men, from a variety of locations, take advantage of its programs throughout the week.

"The response has been tremendous," remarked Rabbi Greenspan. "We even have members joining us from as far as Cherry Hill, New Jersey, Delaware, Elkins Park, and Northeast Philadelphia."

When someone in South Africa contacted Dirshu, in search of an on-line Dirshu Mishnah Berurah shiur, a shidduch was made with Rabbi Greenspan's newly-launched program. Now, this individual from South Africa, who has a chavrusa in Eretz Yisrael, listens to recordings of Rabbi Greenspan's shiur in Philadelphia.

Mr. Gil Matityahu tries to attend First Seder every morning. "Every day, I learn something new. There is a great energy there and lots of interesting topics in the shiurim. It is the closest thing to being in yeshiva."

Last week, First Seder held a Chanukah mesibah, which was complete with inspiring divrei Torah and lively dancing, reflecting the beautiful ruach that has developed in the beis medrash.

Rabbi Yechiel Biberfeld, Rosh Kollel, addressed the gathering, and Rabbi Yosef Prupas, a member of the kollel and a kohen, made a siyum on maseches Brachos.

Inspired by his initial success, Rabbi Greenspan hopes to see the program grow to accommodate more and more individuals. "Some people are surprised that the program has met with such a positive response," commented Rabbi Greenspan. "But I am not surprised. I view First Seder as a basic, beautiful concept that just did not exist before. I am hoping to see it double and triple in coming months."

Harav Dovid Schustal Visits Philadelphia Community Kollel

The Motzoei Shabbos Masmid Program at the Philadelphia Community Kollel is always exhilarating. Each winter Motzoei Shabbos approximately 150 children and adults gather to spend time learning, followed by refreshments and prizes.

This past Motzoei Shabbos was even more exciting, as Harav Dovid Schustal, Shlitza, Rosh Yeshiva of Bais Medrash Govoha in Lakewood, New Jersey, was in Philadelphia for a simcha and agreed to come and speak at the program.

The visit took the participants by surprise. However, when Harav Schustal arrived, they gathered around the Rosh Yeshiva and escorted him into the bais medrash with song and dance, in a true showing of lovod ha'Torah.

The Rosh Yeshiva addressed the group, reflecting on the kedushah of a group that is gathered to learn Torah. He quoted a Chofetz that indicates Moshiach will come through the zechus of learning Gemara.

"My friends, it is happening! There has been an incredible outburst of growth in the learning of Daf Yomi. And the wonderful idea of teaching children on a Motzoei Shabbos has really taken root in almost any city that has a community."

The Rosh Yeshiva then explained that we must look back to Meamad Har Sinai and draw strength from the unbroken chain of mesorah, and we must also look to the future and draw strength from the nevuah of "Bayom ha'hu yihyeh Hasbem echod u'Shemo echod." The older generation represents the link to the past, and the younger generation represents the link to the future.

Harav Schustal explained, "When adults learn with children it is the meeting of the two generations where each can offer the other chizuk! Perhaps that is why by Divine Providence this amazing format has become so popular now at the end of days. Adults give of their time as the holiness of Shabbos leaves us and we involve ourselves in preparation for the new week in a most beautiful venture of kedushah."

Following the Rosh Yeshiva's inspiring words, fathers and sons lined up to get a brachah. The visit was an incredible source of chizuk to the Philadelphia community.

12th
ANNUAL DINNER

Rabbi Aaron Gold was born and raised in South Philadelphia and attended Philadelphia's Beth Jacob School through 8th grade. He then moved on to the Talmudical Yeshiva of Philadelphia for the next seven years, including high school and Bais Medrash. Rabbi Gold left Philadelphia to attend Mesivtha Tifereth Jerusalem in New York where he received smicha from HaGaon HaRav Moshe Feinstein, zt"l. It was during this time in New York that he met his future rebbetzin, a native New Yorker and graduate of Yeshiva Rabbi Samson Raphael Hirsch (Breuer's).

Rabbi Aaron and Esther Gold were married in 1966 and moved back to Philadelphia, where Rabbi Gold had obtained a teaching position at his old school, Beth Jacob. Two years later, Rabbi Gold was hired by what was then known as Wynnefield Hebrew Day School, later to become Torah Academy of Greater Philadelphia, where he remained for the next forty-plus years teaching and mentoring hundreds of young people. Over the years he has been zoche to teach multiple generations of children from the same families, and he continues to maintain a strong keshet with many of his former students, including some of the current Kollel faculty.

In 1970 Rabbi Gold graduated from Villanova University with an MA in elementary school guidance counseling. Mrs. Gold has degrees in Allied Health and Management of Information Systems.

Rabbi Aaron and Esther Gold have four children, all products of Torah Academy, who are married and living with their families in various parts of the country: Rabbi Binyamin and Tovah Sandler in Detroit, Michigan; Rabbi Eliezer and Freyda Sora Gold in Staten Island, New York; Rabbi Yisroel and Elisheva (also a Torah Academy alumnus and daughter of Dr. Elaine Zackai of Lower Merion and the late Dr. Hertzal Zackai, a"h) Gold in Savannah, Georgia; and Eliyohu and Aviva Gold in Baltimore, Maryland. One of their granddaughters is married to Rabbi Chaim Yitzchok Friedman, son of Dr. Martin and Sheri Friedman of Lower Merion, and a grandson is married to a granddaughter of Shmuel and Khana Globman of Overbrook.

The Golds attend Lower Merion Synagogue, and Rabbi Gold learns with a group of retirees at the Philadelphia Community Kollel twice a week, in addition to giving a regular shiur for women. Esther has been a longtime active volunteer with the Chevrah Kadisha while still maintaining a full time job in the pharmaceutical industry, supporting her husband's ongoing efforts in harbotzas Torah.

Guests of Honor
Rabbi and Mrs. Aaron Gold

The Philadelphia Community Kollel is proud to honor
Rabbi and Mrs. Aaron and Esther Gold

Rabbi Gold's legendary mission of chinuch and harbotzas Torah has impacted our Greater Philadelphia community immeasurably.

Supported by his wife, he has transmitted an undiluted mesorah of Torah learning from his rebbeim to his talmidim, young and old.

They truly exemplify the Kollel's mission of spreading Torah throughout our community.

May Hashem bless them with unending
nachas from their generations of children and generations of students.

Bobby Den, son of Marvin and Marjorie Den, was born in New York, and grew up in Westport, Connecticut. He received his undergraduate degree in Chemistry at Yale University and medical degree through Harvard-MIT.

Galitte, daughter of Haim and Annie Battash, was born in Haifa, Israel and grew up in Twin Rivers, New Jersey. She attended Stern College, earning a degree in Marketing.

Galitte and Bobby met in Boston while Bobby was in medical school. Bobby's postgraduate training began at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston as an intern in medicine, and continued with a residency in radiation oncology at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital from 2007 to 2010, and ultimately with a position as chief resident (2010-2011). Currently, Bobby is an attending physician and clinician scientist in the Radiation Oncology department at Thomas Jefferson University.

Since moving to Lower Merion, Galitte and Bobby have been blessed with three amazing children: Shlomo, Leora, and Yaira. Bobby and Galitte love living in Lower Merion and are active members of the community. Bobby serves as a gabbai at the Hashkama Minyan and a member of the Torah Academy board. Galitte has taken the initiative to get involved in the Mikva, running multiple fundraising events and giving behind-the-scenes support. She also chairs the Torah Academy Welcoming committee and serves as a Class Parent. In addition, Galitte enjoys organizing and cooking meals for families who have just had babies and the residents of Inglis House. On Monday nights, Bobby can be found either at the Kollel learning with Rabbi Nosenchuk or at Torah Academy attending a board meeting.

Galitte and Bobby wish to express their hakaras hatov to the community and particularly to the Kollel for bestowing upon them the Young Leadership Award. They are touched and humbled by this opportunity to support the Kollel.

May Bobby and Galitte be blessed with nachas, success and ongoing opportunities to serve our community and כלל ישראל.
