Message from the Rosh Kollel

The metaphor of a Bar Mitzvah year is apropos. Before a child is born, his future is a mystery. As an infant and then a toddler, he has his ups and downs. There are easy days and harder days, healthy days and sick days. As the child matures and demonstrates his growth and achievement, a sense of satisfaction develops within his parents and grandparents, indeed in all those who have cared for and helped raise this wonderful child. The simcha of a Bar Mitzvah is truly a culmination of those years of struggle and ultimate achievement and growth.

The Philadelphia Community Kollel has also had times of enthusiasm and of challenge, smoother times and bumpier ones. Many hardworking individuals spent countless hours and days nurturing it, caring for it, and maintaining it. When we celebrate this Bar Mitzvah milestone, we can look back at all the growth and progress this institution has had, the unbelievable impact it has made on members of our community, and the infusion of Torah and Torah-true ideals into the homes and hearts of so many people connected with the Kollel.

A Bar Mitzvah, however, is not an end.

It is a new beginning, one with maturity, a strong past, and much experience. There is still much unknown that lies ahead. Fervent prayer accompanies this momentous occasion so that the future shines brightly with all of our dreams. It is only through Divine orchestration that we have reached this moment, and therefore we go forward with prayer on our lips that Hashem continue to shower His blessings, both ruchniyus and gashmiyus, upon our Torah institution.

Thank you to our honorees, Elliot and Amy Holtz, and Avi and Julie Zohar. We hope this will be a memorable evening for you and your families, and we are grateful for your support.

Once again I thank Ted and Phyllis for their tremendous work on behalf of the Kollel. Together with the work of Mendel and Shira Kupfer, their efforts have made the journal a magnificent success.

To the office staff, led by my dear friend, Rabbi Yoel Dovid Zeffren, with Chaya Wachs and Richie Fine, I say מישר כחכם, and may Hashem pay your reward where it really counts.

Thank you all for your all-encompassing support of the Kollel, through learning, financial contributions, and appreciating its value in the community. Mazel tov to us all on this Bar Mitzvah!

Message from the President of the Board

It is with tremendous gratitude to Hashem Yisborach that I welcome you to the Kollel's Annual Dinner, marking 13 years in the community. Thank you for joining us and for your generous support of our ad journal.

These have been years of tremendous growth and maturation. Beginning in 2000 with 7 Rabbis, the Kollel has grown to 9 Rabbis learning full-time plus another 5 learning part-time. In addition, in the past five years Kollel Rabbis have increasingly been staying in our community when they move on from learning full-time. These alumni Rabbis and their wives stay involved with the Kollel and also get involved with our schools and Shuls.

This year four new Rabbis joined the Kollel and moved with their families to our community. I want to formally welcome Rabbi Shmulie and Fraida Grunberger, Rabbi Yakir and Lea Schechter, Rabbi Shmuel Dov and Suri Sussman and Rabbi Avrohom and Gittie Weiss.

Our programming continues to expand and fills the week with a wide variety of learning opportunities. In this past year alone, Rabbi Yosef Prupas kicked off the exciting monthly Executive Learning Forum, and he is also directing a wonderful mother/daughter learning program called Kesher. Rabbi Avrohom Weiss began an Amud Hayom shiur, Dr. David Weiss began a chabura for medical professionals, and Ori Eisenberg began a Gemara shiur in Ivrit. Leadership and Learning, geared to college students during their summer break, was a great program, and Rabbi Uri Greenspan's successful First Seder program began its second year. On a typical day, 10 men attend First Seder's 4 morning shiurim, along with another 5 who participate via a newly introduced internet link, and 6 learn Gemara with chavrusas in the Bais Medrash.

This 13th Annual Dinner is our most successful yet in terms of attendance and support for the Kollel. Much can be attributed to our honorees. Elliot and Amy Holtz are outstanding people who give so much to our community and to the Jewish people as a whole. Avi and Julie Zohar already are very involved in the community, and we can expect even more from them in the future. Mazel tov to these worthy honorees and thank you for lending your support and time to help make this dinner a success.

As this is our Bar Mitzvah celebration, it also is appropriate to thank the individuals who were so integral to giving the Kollel its start; they and their families are still involved with the Kollel. It is safe to say that were it not for the vision and commitment of these people, our Kollel would not have gotten off the ground and would not be here today: Dr. Herb Caskey, Stan Sved, Dr. David Epstein, a"h, Sherman Frager, Dr. Danny Eisenberg, Dr. Jay Rosenblum, Art Morgenstern, a"h, Naphtali Perlberger and Ezra Wohlgelernter.

Representing the Board, I'd like to acknowledge and thank the Kollel Rabbaim and staff for their dedication and unending efforts on behalf of the Kollel and the community: the Rosh Kollel Rav Yechiel Biberfeld and Mrs. Biberfeld, the Assistant Rosh Kollel Rav Yoel Dovid Zeffren and Mrs. Zeffren, and the support staff, Rich Fine and Chaya Wachs. Thank you also to the yungeleit and their wives for your learning and teaching and all your efforts on behalf of the Kollel. Thank you also to lay leaders board members, and past presidents who have given their time and guidance, especially the other members on our executive committee, Ira Strassman, Vice President; Ted Kosloff, Past President; Jay Rosenblum, Secretary; and David Shakow, Treasurer.

Our dinner committee did an outstanding job this year. Thank you to Dr. Mendel and Shifa Kupfer and Ted and Phyllis Kosloff, co-chairpersons of the ad journal, and of course, to Rav Yoel Dovid Zeffren, the driving force who makes this and all of our previous dinners a reality. Thank you to all of the others who attended to the details of this lovely evening.

Finally, thank you to the Rabbis of our community Shuls, and to Rav Shmuel Kamenetsky and the Roshei Yeshivas and Rabbaim of the Philadelphia Yeshiva for supporting the Kollel.

May Hashem continue to bless the Kollel in our mission of learning and teaching Torah in our community.

Thank you, Sid Laytin

Message from the Journal Chairpersons

Dear Friends,

We are truly honored to once again serve as Journal Chairpersons. Soliciting ads is never easy, but the gracious and generous response that we've received heartens us as we continue to grow and achieve our goals. Whether your donation was large or small, know that it was appreciated and it is valued. Here at the Kollel it's the Torah that's paramount, and the people and relationships are at the heart of the matter.

Having reached our Bar Mitzvah year is a tribute to Rabbi Biberfeld, Rabbi Zeffren and all the Kollel rabbis. We thank you all for your support in keeping the light of Torah burning so brightly at the Kollel.

Honorees

Amy and Elliot have spent their lives on a journey that led them to choosing the Torah lifestyle they live today. Ten years ago, the Holtzs were living on the Philadelphia Main Line. Amy, a South Florida native, was involved with her family business, a chain of 25 Party City stores. Elliot, a senior executive, had helped launch National Financial Partners and was spending much of his time commuting from Philadelphia to his job on Wall Street.

Then, Amy started studying Torah - and the Holtzs lives changed dramatically. They now live an Orthodox lifestyle and are immersed in Jewish communal life. Amy had grown up Reform, and she had been turned off to Judaism in Hebrew School. When, on a whim, she started studying Torah with Rebbitzen Nili Couzens, she was blown away by its wisdom. She realized that she had dedicated her life to getting people to buy things they didn't need, and there was a greater purpose to life than selling party goods. As Amy became more observant, she asked Elliot to come home once a month for Shabbos dinner - what seemed like an impossible task, given his Wall Street career. But after the 2008 financial crash, Elliot turned inward, realizing that his career had cost him too much as a husband, father, and community member. He wanted to make up that missed time. He left his job and opened a local real estate business, prioritizing his family and the Jewish community.

Today Amy and Elliot are both devoting their professional experience to serving the needs of the Jewish People. Amy is the President of Jerusalem U, the leading producer and distributor of online courses and documentary films about Israel and Judaism. She is also on the National Center for Hebrew Language Charter School Excellence and Development Board and the Jewish National Fund's PA Eastern Region Board. Elliot studies regularly in the Kollel, where he has a regular chavrusa and participates in the Executive Learning Forum, where he is a committee member. He serves on several boards, including the Foundation for Jewish Day Schools of Philadelphia, Torah Academy, Aish HaTorah Philadelphia and he is the Chair of Development and Executive Board member of AIM Academy, a school for children who learn differently. Elliot has become an expert on Pennsylvania's business tax-credits for private school donations. He is the Pennsylvania Chairman of the OU Advocacy Center, raising millions of dollars for our day schools while successfully lobbying the Pennsylvania legislature to increase the existing tax credit program by $25 million and to establish $50 million of new tax credits for scholarships for children of failing schools.

The Holtzs primary "project" is raising their 3 beautiful children, Adam (18), Will (15), and Julia (13).

The Holtzs unlikely journey helps them continually strive to make our community and the world a better place by seeing everything they do through the light of Torah.

Guests of Honor Elliot and Amy Holtz

The Philadelphia Community Kollel is proud to honor

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot and Amy Holtz as Guests of Honor.

They have devoted their time, resources and talents to benefit the Jewish community locally, nationally and globally.

Elliot and Amy are both people who are committed to learning Torah and supporting it.

May Hashem reward their efforts with success, and may they see nachas from their beautiful family.

Iulie and Avi Zohar were childhood friends both living in Los Angeles. Avi moved to Philadelphia when he was about eight, while Julie's family moved to Israel a few years later. Avi spent his elementary school years on the East Coast attending Torah Academy, and then moved to Ner Yisrael in Baltimore for high school. Avi learned in Israel for a year after high school, attending Yeshivat Ohr Yerushalayim. That year he reconnected with Julie and her family. After returning to the States, Avi spent two years at Yeshivah University, married Julie in 2003, and then moved back home to Philadelphia where he completed his undergraduate degree at Temple University, obtaining a degree in Elementary Education with Special Education. Avi has completed a Master's degree in Instructional Technology in Education from Saint Joseph's University.

Professionally, Avi has been teaching at his alma mater, Torah Academy, for the past eight years. He also teaches religious school at Main Line Reform Temple in Wynnewood and dabbles in hashgacha work. Avi take pleasure in his Wednesday night chavrusa at the Kollel and also attends Kollel events throughout the year. He and his son Eitan learn together on Motzaei Shabbos as part of the Masmid Program as well.

Julie splits her time among many different causes. Aside from running a home and being a mother of three, Julie also helps out at Torah Academy, volunteering as a class parent for each of her children's classes, as well as helping out at different community events. She also attends college classes as she works toward her degree. Julie enjoys the many different Kollel events for women that are held during the year.

The Zohars have three children who bring them nachas on a daily basis—Hilla (8), Eitan (5), and Aviva (almost 2).

Avi and Julie would like to extend their limitless appreciation to the Kollel and to its community "family" for this kavod. They see it as a great honor to be the means used to support Torah learning and values.

Young Leadership Award Avi and Julie Zohar

The Philadelphia Community Kollel is pleased to recognize

Mr. and Mrs. Avi and Julie Zohar with the Young Leadership Award.

"כל שרוח הבריות נוחה הימנו רוח המקום נוחה הימנו" [אבות ג:י] "One who is pleasing to others is pleasing to Hashem."

Avi and Julie are role models for communal involvement and are known for their warm and giving personalities.

They draw others in to volunteer, to share, and to help build in our community.

May they continue to have the energy and the drive to do even more for the Kollel, for the Lower Merion community, and Klal Yisroel.

In honor of Avi and Julie

We remember when a very young Avi moved into the neighborhood with his parents. It has been a pleasure to see how he's matured into a caring and sensitive individual, with exceptional middos tovos. Together with his lovely wife, Julie, they are raising a beautiful family.

A most deserving honor!

Congratulations to Elliot Holtz for his remarkable energy in helping people, always with his sterling character.

Thank you again to the Kollel for another year of learning and teaching Torah, uplifting us all through it.

If we had to pick a place for you to continue learning, we would have picked Philadelphia also, because of the Rosh Yeshiva! We are so proud of you, Abba, that you got your smicha in Israel.
